Congress Adjourns Out of Respect for the Dead Leader; Service to Be Broadcast

Washington, March 10.—Parliamentary tokens of affection and respect were heaped high upon the bier of William Howard Taft today as the nation prepared to give him honored burial.

The house in Wyoming, where he lived and died, was filled like a museum, spring-basted with a wilderness of flowers. A procession of messengers carried to the surviving family the consoling words of friends in many lands.

Congress and the Supreme Court adjourned to recess until after the funeral tomorrow. President Hoover personally directed that the executive branch of the Government should show every fitting honor to the only man in history who had been both President and chief justice.

While the guns of near and distant army posts boomed their requiem, plans were completed for removal of the body tomorrow to the Capitol rotunda, to lie in state for a few hours, and for the service at 2 p. m. at the Washington church which Taft attended.

At Arlington, across the Potomac on a knoll overlooking the White House and the Capitol, the family marked out the spot where the departed statesman will rest at last amid the graves of the nation's war dead.

ELMER SMITH SOARS TO NEW HEIGHT MARK

Reaches an Altitude of 32,000 Feet in Attempt to Set Record for Women

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., March 10 (AP).—Elmer Smith, 18-year-old pilot, today attained an apparent altitude of 32,000 feet in an attempt to set a new altitude record for women.

The previous record, set by the late Mrs. Marvel Croson, was 24,000 feet.

Miss Smith carried on her flight a sealed barograph, which will be sent to Washington to be read, according to the plan of the experiment.

At this altitude she said, the supercharger regulating the flow of gas and oxygen to her motor apparently failed.

The physical effort of adjusting the motor made her dizzy, she said, then everything went black and she fainted.

When she regained consciousness she had dropped to 27,000 feet and the engine was in a smooth, gentle glide.

Miss Smith took off in a Balaban cabin monoplane, attired in a gray flannel flying clothes, she was strapped in the seat of her plane, an oxygen mask and tank were fastened to her.

Her plane is a red and black, five-passenger cabin monoplane, powered with a 100-horsepower Wright Whirlwind motor with a supercharger to regulate the air and gas flow at high altitudes.

She carried fuel for three hours. The present woman's record of 24,000 feet was set by Mrs. Croson, killed last year in the woman's cross-country air derby.

Capt. George Haldeman, who flew part way across the Atlantic with Ruth Elder, attained an altitude of over 35,000 feet last week, using an identical plane.

White Plains, N. Y., March 10 (INS).—A jury rendered a verdict of $500,000 in favor of Mrs. Adelaide K. Ward Gibbons of Scarsdale, today, in her $100,000 action of affection suit against Mrs. Blanche Powell of Croton Falls, widow of a wealthy Canadian lumberman.

Elmer Smith, who rose to 32,000 feet in monoplane at Roosevelt Field, L. I., today, in attempt to break altitude record for women set by Mrs. Marvel Croson, who later was killed in air derby. Mrs. Croson's record was 24,000 feet.

Oliver B. Garrett, former politician whose activities are being investigated by the attorney-general, today declared he will fight to the last ditch.

"I'm eager to get on the stand and tell my story," he declared.

His declaration was made shortly after Dist. Atty. Winfield M. Wilbur of the southeastern district was reported summoned to the office of Atty.-Gen. Joseph E. Warner.

It was understood he was called in connection with the special grand jury in Norfolk county in connection with the Garrett investigation.

The grand jury will be called for the purpose of investigating the alleged fraud and the changes of venue to the Norfolk county court.

Garrett's personal physician, Dr. John Henry McDonald, his dentist, Dr. H. M. Burke, and Dr. Frederick W. O'Brien, X-ray expert, were questioned in the attorney-general's office.

Atty. Gen. George W. Louie announced that the hearings would resume Wednesday morning at 10:30, with the physician the first witnesses to stand up to the medical angle.

Atty. Louie said the hearings would continue through Friday, and probably be resumed the following week, before another adjournment is taken to digest the evidence.

He added that C. Edward Atty. is in charge of a staff of accountants from the auditing company of Lybrand, Rose, Rice & Montross, who are auditing the bank accounts of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett.

It was also learned that the search is being made for a Mrs. Warren of Springfield, who is a nurse resident at Adams Shore, N. Y.

Navy Flags to Fly Half Staff Only on Funeral Day

While Army posts, customs departments and State and city buildings had flags at half-staff today as a mark of mourning for former Chief Justice William Howard Taft of the U. S. Supreme Court, navy regulations call for half-staff display at naval stations and on vessels in commission only on the day of the funeral.

Flags, therefore, were half-staffed at the Army Base in South Boston and at other army posts, at the Customs House, the State House and City Hall.

There was no display at the temporary Federal building because there is no flagpole on Young's Island.

There will be, however, no display by the Rev. Uvener G. P. Pierce, D. D., minister of the church, who will conduct the services. The rites at the church will be marked with simplicity.

ASK CHANGE IN ENFORCEMENT

Washington, March 10 (INS)—Radical revision of prohibition enforcement, with Uncle Sam tracking down the "big ones" and the states going after the little violators, will be considered by the House judiciary sub-committee, as a substitute for the Wickersham commission's "jurymen trial program." It was announced today by Representative Christopher (R.) of South Dakota, sub-committee chairman.

The plan has been put forward by many drys as a means of ending the "buck-passing" between federal and state authorities and reducing congestion in the federal courts.

With opposition apparently growing to the Wickersham commission's plan of permitting U. S. court commissioners to hear prohibition cases without jury trials, although giving the accused the right to demand jury trial later in federal court, the judiciary sub-committee will also consider other proposed substitutes.

Moscow, March 10—Charged with fomenting a counter-revolution, the penalty for which is death, 65 members of the Ukrainian intelligentsia stood trial in the Charkov Supreme Court, which was held in the opera house.

The accused include six priests. The rest are professors and scientists. They are charged with being the ringleaders in a 10-year-old conspiracy to free the Ukraine from Soviet dominance and establish an independent republic. The indictment is lengthy.

It specifies that they had prepared an armed revolt for this spring; planned the assassination of Dictator Josef Stalin, Commissioner for War Clement Voroshilov, (I. I. Petrovsky, president of the central executive committee of the Ukraine, and Vice-President Shapnik; received funds from the White Russians in Poland, Berlin and Paris, and were connected with Gen. Petlura before his assassination.

BYRD HAPPY TO GET BACK TO CIVILIZATION

Dunedin, N. Z., March 10 (AP).—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, American explorer, and the members of his Antarctic expedition returned to Dunedin today after having spent more than a year in the scientific exploration of the frozen regions at the bottom of the world.

All Dunedin turned out to greet the discoverer of the Antarctic region which he named Marie Byrd Land in honor of his wife. This discovery was rated by Byrd as the most important achievement of the expedition. His death-defying flight to the South Pole evoked just two sentences of comment.

Asked how it felt to fly over the South Pole Byrd said:

"Very much like flying over the North Pole except the North Pole was bumper."

DOUBLE POLE HOPS

Byrd is the only man who has flown over both poles. He soared over the South Pole Nov. 29, 1929, in the tri-motored monoplane Floyd Bennett, piloted by Bernt Raaen, and accompanied by Capt. Ashley McKinley, aerial surveyor, and Harold G. Gatty, radio operator. The flight was made over the hazardous heights from Little America, Byrd's base.

On May 9, 1926, Byrd flew out of Spitzbergen, circled the North Pole and returned. Among his other adventures was a transatlantic flight which ended where his plane became lost in fog and finally landed at the water's edge off the coast of France.

Tamulous enthusiasm held away as the expedition, borne by the barque City of New York and the steamer Eleanor Bolling, entered the harbor of Dunedin. Dunedin was the last city to bid Byrd farewell when he set out for the Antarctic in December, 1928.

LAND MOST VALUABLE

Byrd's comment on the accomplishment of the expedition was brief. He said:

"Surely the South Pole flight was not more important than the flight during which we discovered the new land to the east, on the other side of the Ross Dependency. This I have named Marie Byrd Land."

"The six scientists with us worked seriously and the results should prove very useful. We surveyed 28,000 square miles of hitherto unexplored country."

"We got used to the cold and our houses were very snug. The money was the worst thing we had to encounter."

MORE 'TOURIST CLASS' LINERS

London, March 10 (INS).—This year's transatlantic tourist season is to see a revolution in ocean travel.

Most of the steamship lines are to extend the "tourist class," and second class will soon be obsolete.

The change is due to the great popularity of "tourist third" travel among others than those of limited means.

Ribbings, professors, musicians and other well-to-do people travel "tourist" because of the lack of snobbery. The social life of "tourist third" is said to be far more enjoyable, its entertainments and dances far more jolly than in the first class.

Vessels of the Leviathan and Humber type will have only first and "tourist third" classes, accommodation for the latter to equal that formerly given second class.

Dog Catcher Gassed in Pound 'Chamber'; Canines Escape

Hammond, Ind., March 10 (AP).—The vulgar for more scientific dog catching—which may have started with the exploits of former Dog Catcher Gene de Serv of Evanston, Ill.—has reached Hammond.

Skinner Summers, conductor of the pound, decided that Hammond should be second to none; at least not second to Evanston, where the efficient de Servi caught everything from iron dogs to squirrels.

Accordingly he constructed a new "death chamber," filled it with doped dogs and turned on the gas.

Later a policeman noticed a pair of feet protruding from the chamber. He found the dog catcher asleep—gassed—and the dogs at play.

30 ARE DEAD IN TRAIN PLUNGE

Rio de Janeiro, March 10 (INS).—Thirty persons were killed and 15 injured today when a passenger train descending a mountain from the summer resort of Theropolis left the rails and dropped 500 feet into a valley.

The passengers, returning to this city after their vacations, were horror-stricken when the train suddenly gained momentum and continued to accelerate on the down grade until it was running wild.

Survivors stated that the brakes of the train apparently failed to function properly, as the cars continued downward, finally leaving the rails at a curve and tumbling into the valley.

Rescue crews were rushed to the scene, but found difficulty in extracting the victims from the debris because of the inaccessibility of the scene of the accident.

MOTHERS BACK PRICE PLAN FOR MORE BABIES

By PRINCE PIGNATELLI
Editorial Service Cable

Rome, March 10.—Italy is awaiting with intense interest the outcome of one of the strangest battles ever fought on a non-military field.

The struggle lies between Fascism and feminism, and the issue—vital to Dictator Mussolini's schemes for a Greater Italy—involves 500,000 potential babies.

So far Il Duce has been worsted, and Fascism is now facing the resolute refusal of Italian women to fill any longer the subordinate role allotted to them in the Fascist scheme.

At the beginning of last year Mussolini demanded a bigger quota of babies to realize a large-scale emigration into Italian colonies and extensive settlements on the land at home.

Yet Fascists now perceive that, instead of more, about 100,000 fewer children were born in 1929 than in previous post-war years. Consequently a new battle for increased population is going to begin.

This time women cavewalkers are to replace men on behalf of the birth rate. The harassing of spinners and men of marriageable age is to be discontinued and the demand for babies has been reduced from 1,000,000 to half that number.

'CONFESSION' IS PRESSESSOR'S DEATH CASE

Jacksonville, Fla., March 10 (AP)—The alleged confession of Leo Landry, escaped convict, naming Watson Moulthrop as the slayer of Detective K. D. Smith, was introduced today in the trial of Moulthrop and Roland Lalone, Landry's companions in flight from prison, for the killing of Smith.

The statement was presented through Detective Inspector E. L. Acosta of Jacksonville.

Landry, who was indicted with Lalone and Moulthrop for Smith's death, but who will be tried later, under an agreement for a severance, is expected to take the stand as a state witness today.

Inspector Acosta said he and other Jacksonville officers questioned the three convicts regarding the gun battle on a street near Jacksonville police headquarters Jan. 17 in which Smith was shot to death and Detective Willis Jones wounded.

"Lalone and Moulthrop said they did not wish to make a statement," Acosta said. "They were confronted by Leo Landry, who said Moulthrop shot Smith after the officers stopped them and attempted to search them."

Acosta identified Landry as the "man in a white sweater," who several eyewitnesses have testified they saw running from the scene of the shooting.

HITS BOARD ON POWER SITE

Washington, March 10.—The Federal Power Commission has abandoned "all pretense of judicial impartiality," and is bent upon turning over the vast Flathead power site to the Montana Power Co., according to a charge made by Walter H. Wheeler, Minneapolis engineer and the rival applicant.

Wheeler declared the proposed development by the power company would yield the "Flathead Indian owners $2,500,000 in 50-year rental, whereas his own would give them about $1,000,000."

He attacked the priority given to the power company on the ground that it had already made some expenditures, charging some of these were used "for Indian pow-wows, and political and quasi-political donations."

Wheeler quoted Secretary of Interior Hubert H. Work's testimony before the Senate Interstate Commerce committee that expenditures were made with the "understanding" that they gave no priority, but that it was long-standing custom to take them into consideration.

Wheeler also charged that the power company had "used its money to buy up the land, to build a dam, and to build a power plant."

EARLY ACTION ON SEPARATE DRUG BUREAU

By KENNETH CLARK

Washington, March 10.—Belief that the bill creating an independent narcotics bureau will be expedited through Congress to effect an early strengthening and reorganization of the federal narcotics enforcement system has been expressed by Representative Porter (R.) of Pennsylvania.

Hearings have been concluded before the House Ways and Means Committee. An executive session is to be held shortly to draft a favorable report.

As the American Medical Association has indicated opposition to the proposal, Porter has suggested that a committee of physicians be summoned to Washington to iron out differences. The group would have a subcommittee of House foreign affairs committee, which has the bill in charge.

Ready to Move, but There's Nothing to Move After Fire

Merriam, March 10 (AP)—

When furniture movers in a big van drove up to the home of Harry Mustonen of Merriamport today to move his household effects to Worcester they found the house in flames.

They sounded a fire alarm as Mustonen leaped from a second-story window.

After the fire had been extinguished Mustonen had nothing to move.

SEIZE EX-WIFE OF VICTIM IN KIDNAP PLOT

Chicago, March 10 (AP)—A band of extortionists that plied its trade of kidnapping and torture from New York to Chicago was believed broken today because of an ex-wife's tip that her former husband, a wealthy insurance company head, would be a "easy victim."

The "easy victim," Theodore Kopelman, at the county jail positively identified six men as the ones who held him captive in a lonely hotel resort cottage and threatened him with searing iron until he paid ransom.

Kopelman then picked out from those rounded up in connection with the gang his divorced wife, now the sweetheart of one of the tag-teamers.

In addition to the seven leaders, seven men and another woman are held as witnesses and two more are being sought.

Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the State's attorney's office, said

CURTIS GROUP OF MUSICIANS WIN PRAISE

By MORRIS SMITH
The concert of the Curtis Orchestra in Symphony Hall last night was, for the writer, one of the most surprising and thrilling events in years of concert going. Dropping in as a matter of professional duty to hear these students of the Curtis Institute of Philadelphia, augmented by only five professionals, we found not the typical student orchestra we had expected but a body of trained musicians.
Many boys or girls of leaving early was quickly dispelled with the opening number, the Prelude to Wagner's "Meistersinger." For these young players, under the able direction of Emil Mlynarski, achieved a brilliance and beauty of tone, a technical virtuosity, a knowledge of musical fundamentals that make them rivals of the leading symphony orchestras.
This is not exaggeration. Their vitality throughout the program was prodigious. Their attack was almost a model of precision. No apologies had to be made for the performance of Strauss' "Don Juan," which is certainly not easy music to play. And wonder was added to wonder when we heard three young soloists render their little like familiar. The concerto for violin and cello was heard here for the first time in years with Judith Pons and Tibor de Maccubus as the respective soloists. This music, technically difficult and requiring, presented a considerable maturity, was given an excellent performance. One admired and wondered at the beauty of the violinist's tone, her technical facility, and her remarkable poise; while the cello, a young, vigorous, passionately earnest lad, displayed a musical talent readily accepted as first-rate.
To add to the feast, Tatiana de Sanewitch played the piano part of the Cesar Franck "Symphonie Variations" played them with virginal touch, clearness of execution, and exuberant spirit. The program ended with Strauss' Overture to "The Bartered Bride."
No wonder that the distinguished audience had been so captivated for the occasion applauded with great enthusiasm the perfect performance of the conductor, who has done a notable job in drilling the orchestra.

BENEFIT AIDS HOSPITAL

The proceeds will be added to the building fund of the proposed new hospital unit, which is to be erected on Commonwealth ave., at Washington Heights, and will be known as the Massachusetts Memorial Hospital. The Boston University school of medicine, under the direction of Dr. Alexander S. Berg, will be located nearby.

Horowitz Scores in Second Hub Concert

New Fashion of Shorts For Outdoors Winning Favor at All Resorts

FEMININE and thrilling though we may be in the evening, the slim silhouette the new style demand can best be achieved through strenuous exercise during the day. The newly revived game of badminton, that combination of tennis and basketball and shuttlecock, and the craze for tap dancing, which is affording so much amusement, while those indulging take off pounds, and through mastering its adroit steps, acquire greater proficiency in tennis, fencing and other games requiring rapid foot work, have provided exercise aplenty.
Of course one simply must be correctly and comfortably outfitted for the occasion always, and the gymnasium suit pictured is a trim businesslike model suitable for a variety of games and strenuous activities.

It is of shantung in vivid yellow, consisting of shorts, and tuck-in blouse, trimly held together by belt of the material caught with metal buckles. High laced sneakers are worn over wool socks of soft green, with turn-over cuffs woven in designs of brown and yellow—matching the head scarf and handkerchiefs of green, brown and yellow tones.
It is a thoroughly businesslike outfit, which is emerging from the gymnasium and basketball activities to be the accepted and conventional costume outdoors, on the beach over one's swimming suit, on the tennis court, for sailing, fishing and even attending at fresco luncheon parties, and as a shopping expeditions at the Southern resorts.

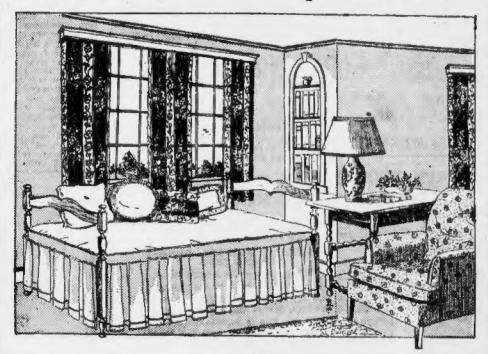

It is starting to meet young ladies in shorts shopping in smart shops, but it is a careless, youthful fashion, and its very unconventionality, and complete contrast to our formal, feminine evening wearables make for its charm and sweeping popularity.
I started last autumn on the Riviera, has been constantly smart at our Southern resorts, and will undoubtedly continue its popularity on our Northern beaches this coming summer.
At the Bath and Tennis Club at Palm Beach, a fashionable observer one morning recently noted that the simple one-piece bathing suit with suntan back and Paton's tuck-in were generally worn, also several of the bracelet neck tie. Jersey and the newer silk jersey for the most part were favored in pastel or bright blue, navy and brown. Wraps to match the suite or of bowling are knee length. Sailor trousers are worn over the suite by the majority of women—these accompanied either sweaters or brief jackets for their protection. A great many shorts and shirts are seen on the beach and tennis courts.

Model from William Filene Sons Co.

BEACH news is increasingly interesting as it is relayed from the fashionable Southern resorts. Trousers have gone over with such an overwhelming acclaim that it is difficult to keep up with the many types to be seen. The newest beach garb is fashioned after that of the cowboy. Wide, black trousers are topped with a green leather belt and a bright green jersey shirt and the whole is worn over a bathing suit. A sombrero-like beach hat completes the picture.

Macaroni Is Now in Its Heyday

NO other food will take the place of macaroni so satisfactorily during the Lenten period as members of the macaroni family—macaroni, spaghetti, noodles and vermicelli. Using these products according to the suggestions offered in a delightful new recipe book of tested and proven recipes, you can treat your family to substantial, healthful and nourishing dishes priced very economically.

And, by the way, if you'd like a copy of this worth-while book, it's yours on request, of course.

The macaroni, spaghetti and noodles that we use in the Martha Lee Kitchen came in us in air-tight and moisture-proof packages, triply sealed. The carton itself is paraffin lined and between the carton and the contents is placed a sheet of waxed paper which is interlocked at both ends.

After packing the cartons are completely enclosed and sealed with the outer wrapping, forming a protective seal, assuring freshness and keeping the contents fresh, full flavored and free from contamination.

These foods, no matter how long they are kept, are always fresh, wholesome and tasty. The reason why food and health authorities seem to agree that there is probably no better food for people of all ages than the members of the macaroni family, is that these foods contain proteins for body building and repair, fats and carbohydrates for heat and energy, mineral salts for blood, bone for teeth and vitamins for health and growth.

On account of their fine flavor, they can be served plain, boiled in a generous amount of salt water to which a tablespoon of butter has been added, and blended with a little butter or meat gravy after the usual manner. Or they will find themselves readily to the preparation of hundreds of delicious dishes and balanced one-dish meals.

This macaroni, spaghetti and noodles that we are talking about is of higher nutritive value and has more of the real wholeness than ordinary macaroni. It is more easily digested, too, for when cooked, these products are lighter, fluffier, and more tender. The reason they sell so well is because of the blending of the two finest hard wheats in just the right proportion, and the method of manufacture, all of which is interesting in the extreme.

The egg noodles are particularly interesting, containing fresh eggs selected with the utmost care, and are really the reason that mother stopped making her own. They come in two sizes, fine and wide. The fine ones are perfect for soup and the wide for side dishes, casseroles and omelets, or for the main dish as a meal.

Fried egg noodles are particularly delicious. One package of the wide egg noodles is parboiled for five minutes and 4 cups of rapidly boiling water to which a tablespoon of salt has been added. The noodles are then drained. Four tablespoons of butter is melted in a heavy frying pan, the noodles are added, and then 1 egg beaten with 2 tablespoons of milk is poured over all. Fry to a delicate brown.

Cake in 'Home Sweet Home'

WE made an interesting test in the Martha Lee Cooking School last week. We made a spice cake from an approved recipe, mixed to the best of our ability, and served it to our class.

At the same time we served spice cake made by a cake company that has been a New England institution for over a quarter of a century. This spice cake was a generously large, oblong loaf, daintily frosted and costs only 20 cents.

We took a vote and, alas for home cooking! The rich, high grade commercial cake, made of finest ingredients, scientifically blended and perfectly baked, wrapped in transparent cellophane was the winner by a big majority.

Today, our office family is feasting on a pineapple cream cake of the same brand, and you know that any cake that will make the modern miss eat calories to the wide must be some cake.

Under this same well-known brand you may also purchase a delicious rich chocolate cake with cream; fudge frosting; individual chocolate fudge cakes; fruit cups; syrup cakes; sponge cakes and round cakes of all varieties.

America's New Dessert Martha's in the Movies

Very Delicious

HAVE you tried "America's new dessert"—the new pudding powder that comes in such delicious chocolate, vanilla caramel and coffee flavors?

Not only is pudding made from this prepared powder delicious, but it is extremely economical, a package costing only 10 cents and three being sold for generous servings to each customer.

This pudding preparation is all pure food—full of energy giving elements, splendid for growing children and grown-ups. And so easy to prepare—no saying of being ready to eat in about 5 minutes.

We think that this powder is sweetened exactly right, but if you desire an extra sweet dessert, it is easy to add a little more sugar to suit your taste.

For pudding in its simplest form is a package of this dessert powder in milk with 1/2 cup of milk. Meanwhile, 1/2 cup of milk is being scalded in a double boiler and the cold milk and powder is stirred into it. If cooked in a double boiler, it is only necessary to stir the pudding for a moment or two until it thickens. Then leave it for perhaps ten minutes, although, if you are in a hurry you may mold it as soon as it is thick.

We particularly enjoy the chocolate flavored puddings molded in a ring mold and served with whipped cream, some of our favorite English style biscuits, and pure ginger ale.

Another favorite use for this convenient powder, is as a foundation for some of the most delicious fudge you have ever eaten.

Here are the directions:

1 pkg. chocolate dessert powder
1 cup granulated sugar
1 1/2 cups milk

Mix the pudding powder, the sugar and milk; place over a medium fire and cook until mixture forms a soft ball when tried in cold water. Stir often while cooking. When soft ball is formed, remove from fire, add butter and beat until thick. Pour in pan which has been rinsed out with water. Cook in squares before cold.

In cooking vegetables cover those that grow under the ground, as potatoes, etc., leave uncovered all vegetables that grow above the ground.

Add 1 1/2 cups of hot water and when dissolved add to the above mixture. Wipe cannet pimientos as dry as possible and fill.

Let stand until thoroughly chilled. Slice and serve on lettuce leaves with French Dressing. Nice with tiny Graham Biscuits made with 1 cup of graham flour, 1 cup of flour, 3 cups of Royal Baking Powder, 1 tsp. of Domestic Sugar, 2 tps. of Crisco, 1 tsp. of salt, and 1/2 cup of Hot's Milk. To be sure, Ivory Salt is an old table favorite... but that needn't bar it from the bathroom. It's true... we modern folk are rediscovering the old-fashioned salt bath.

A salt bath cleanses the skin of all impurities and relieves nerve-tension. It also helps to protect you against common colds because salt bathing makes the skin less sensitive to weather changes.

Just add one carton of Ivory Salt to your bath... reserving enough to massage the muscles and feet. If you prefer a shower wet the skin and rub Ivory Salt all over the body. Take a salt bath tonight and you'll look and feel much better tomorrow.

MONTE AT ARENA

By KINGSIDE
It will be a battle of right it does when Joe Monte and Harry Allen, Brockton ring rivals, collide in a 10-round bout at the New Boston Arena tonight.

Monte and Allen have each been fighting over the opposition with right-hand wall-punches.

A few weeks ago Allen furnished one of the biggest flurries of the year when he flattened Big Boy Rawson in 33 seconds. Rawson had started a come back drive, but was right off by first by the wild Allen surge.

Harry forced Big Boy back and sent him crawling to the canvas under the power of a mighty right hand to the chin.

Monte and Allen have clashed a couple of times. In the first meeting, Monte grabbed a close decision in a tussle jammed with thrills.

Each scored with knockdowns and the winner was in doubt until the final round when Monte's superior experience enabled him to gain the edge.

The second meeting between these sturdy rivals resulted in a late win for Monte. The fans didn't agree with the official decision.

The referee had given Monte the best of things.

Monte and Allen each declare they are in the best possible condition for tonight's go. The rival champions plan to act a lively clip from the opening gun in the hope of crashing through with a knockout.

The winner of tonight's bout will probably be matched to clash with either Ernie Schaaf or Al Friedman.

Ed. Bob McKirby has signed up the strongest preliminary card of the year to support the Monte-Allyn fight.

In the eight-round semifinal, Phil Richards, English welterweight, who has yet to lose a fight in this country, tackles Young Nasser, promising young Bommer with N. H. boy.

Nasser is advancing fast and is confident that he will be first to touch the Briton.

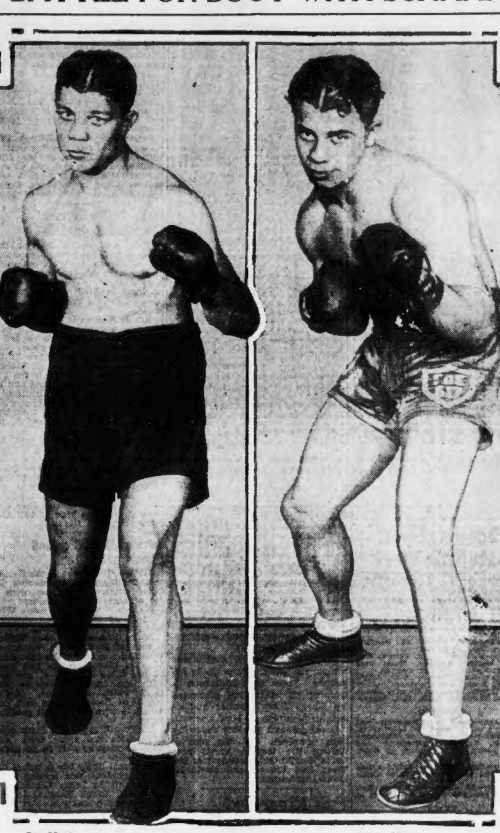

Leo Baker, Popular Water-tower welter, who has not lost a fight since turning pro, meets a contender in Ed Pearson of the Coast guard in the feature four-rounder.

Other four-rounders will bring together the following boys: Dick Howell, Roxbury, vs. Harry Connolly, Dorchester; Joe O'Donnell, Roxbury, vs. Frank Murphy, Weymouth; Gus Brown, Boston, vs. Pat McLaughlin, Charlestown; Tony Salena, Water-town, vs. Larry Thornton, East Boston, and Barney Baker, West End, vs. Danny Scott, East Boston, another member of Admiral Cass' stable.

Joe Monte and Harry Allen, who has been up and down the heavy-weight ladder in his short career in the ring, is gunning for one more big shot at the square circle.

TRURO SEXTET MAY PLAY HUB CHAMPIONS

MANAGER GEORGE V. BROWN of the Boston Anna has opened negotiations with Truro Bearnst, champions of Nova Scotia, for a series with Boston Hockey Club, the latter part of the month.

The move is the direct result of the Hockey Club's 3 to 5 victory over Kentville Wildcats in the arena Saturday night.

The Hockey Club team won the New England championship by beating University Club and proved its class beyond all shadow of doubt by wallowing Kentville after the Wildcats had taken two successive games from University.

Truro defeated Kentville in the playoffs of the Eastern Nova Scotia league and went on to clinch the province championship by beating the representatives of other sections of Nova Scotia.

Among its players are "Doggie" Kahn and Sammy Murdoch who made themselves many Boston friends by their brilliant play in previous series in the arena.

Jack Conway Picks Monte to Win Over Allen

JACK CONWAY today picked Joe Monte to win over Harry Allen in "The Battle of the Night Hawks" at the Arena tonight.

"It should be a scathing blow," said Conway in referring to the Monte-Allyn affair. "I saw the first bout between these boys and each of them bounced off the floor on numerous occasions. I missed the second scrap, but the gallery gods tell me it was filled with action."

"I am striving along with Monte tonight because he has had more ring experience than his youthful rival and should stand up in the tight spots."

ST. JOHN is said to be ready to produce $100,000 for a place in the N. E. League—if they show that money they have the league—minor league baseball isn't all it's cracked up to be, though it's mostly cracked up, at that—our Braves are losing their exhibition games, and usually they win 'em all, and then come spring is here, the veterans are beginning to push the new rookies off the line—the old boys always are around when the bell rings—Boston teams seem to have picked up some really good youngsters, which means that Hoover's era of prosperity has arrived—Phil Scott's manager hasn't lost his nerve—the Swinging Swan will fight won't fight in Chicago—tough year all around for Chi—referees and players in these amateur hockey games should be forced to take out boxing licenses—then, perhaps, they would stop fighting.

JACK SHARKEY hasn't been his hard since July 21, 1927, when Dempsey flattened him. The striding, Loughnan and Scott bouts all were romps.

BOYS are still popping off about the Miami war, just as they did about the long court in Chicago. It does no harm to say what let 'em do? Sharkey threw a low punch or two, but all at a vanishing point, who has the habit of running on his toes to avoid a scuffle. They didn't hurt. The smacks they finished, Phil up all legal.

The referee's elaborately explained decision stands, and Sharkey has only to worry about remaining new. That young man was crude when here, though he was a bit. But he hasn't boxed a lick in a year, and that procedure does no good to a kid fighter, no matter how good.

The Newton Square has had a little trouble with Max as he had with Loughnan and Scott. A preliminary fight might sharpen him, but he cannot afford to chance it. Jack will collect at least $20,000 in the time ring and will be financially anchored for life. He should strive with anything less.

THE Miami race meeting, which closed Saturday, set a new record for short prices and excellent good things. It was very proper in the land of the Florida.

DID you know that most football players are such fanatics that they enjoy spring training—that Al Friedman has averaged a fight a week for more than a year; and never picked a soft spot—that Rabbit Maravich, starting his 18th big league year, looks like one of the greatest. Infielders in either league—that John McGraw will let Dave Carrigan succeed him next year. If Davey does a good job in the 20 campaign—that Manny Brannan made such a good impression in Miami that he will get a big shot back from Pennsylvania, thinks Heinie Wagner will manage as well as Carrigan—that the big hockey teams are out trying to sign up a flock of good college players—that the Chicago of fighting—that the Carnegie Foundation doesn't worry seniors—that a big hockey team could make a fortune in Cleveland—that the ball game will be back in Boston a month from today?

ROSENBLUM Sheehan Out PAIRINGS MADE FOR Terrier IN SQUASH TILT

New York, March 10 (AP)—Maxey Rosenblum, top Harlem Harrier, who came neither how often, who whom he fights, battles Larry Johnson, featuring Chicago negro, in the feature round of a benefit show at Madison Sq. Garden tonight.

With a shot at Jimmy Slattery, recognized in New State as light-heavyweight champion, awaiting him, Maxey still was willing to take on Johnson and risk a defeat that would mean less eliminate him from meeting Slattery.

Johnson dropped a close decision to Pete Latta at the Garden a few weeks ago, but rates as one of the most dangerous hitters in the 175-pound class.

SISLER GREAT BOOSTER OF RIVAL

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—March 10—The Braves have failed to start as auspiciously in their series of spring exhibitions as in former years.

That is especially true of the club which will be recalled that in the past it has been customary for the Tribe to start its exhibition season in early April, only to flicker and wane when the regular season starts.

Possibly, if the boys take it out of the chin in the Citrus Bell, it may be that they will be able to start and stay "ling" out when the season starts.

Bill McKechnie isn't disheartened at the results of the two exhibition games. He says the boys have learned a lot about his ball club. He has learned that the battery is not as good as it looks and that the pitchers are not yet ready to go.

McKechnie hopes to build a team of heavy hitters and the swiftest runners in the league. He says that possibly his hopes may be realized. On the other hand, Bill feels that the boys are not yet ready to start about the pitching. If they don't ine left side of the lot for the rest of the gardeners to battle for, Walter says. "It's the best practice."

Just at present Walter is taking a layoff with a strained muscle, but his hitting prowess gives him the edge when right.

Neum Will Give Sister Hard Fight for First

Johnny Neum has played a snappy game around first base and his strongest booster has been his sister, Edna. "I hope to play that first sack himself this year," but says you've got to give Neum credit for the playing he has done this year. "I think he's got a probability to do a lot of experimenting with that infield."

Bill Cronin is starting to sweeten around a bit, so it looks as though he has shaken the gripper germs off his first and is about ready to join the barnyard again.

Smullyn's track is so far the people and there isn't really a serious casualty in camp, with the possible exception of Bill Dunlap. And, according to reports from the Mount Hope Hospital, Bill is liable to hop out of bed any day—and start for Waterfront Park.

The Braves take on the Yankees today tomorrow, with the Cardinals here Wednesday and the Athletics on the two succeeding days. The Yanks again on Saturday.

Bruins Meet Outstanding Rivals Twice This Week

SEVEN EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

SECRET STARS OUT ALL RECORDS

THE fast, young, aggressive Chicago Blackhawks team, which has played so well this season, faces its chance this week to gain considerable glory and prestige by being the only team in the National Hockey League to win a series from the Bruins this year.

Twice the Chicago youngsters have turned back the great Bruins' machines in four stars, and victories tomorrow night and Thursday night will win the series for the Hawks.

The Bruins are particularly jealous of the many records they have made this season, and Manager Art Ross said today that he had no worries about the way his great team would play tomorrow night.

"These boys are right now," he said, "they'll take the ice full confident that they can give the Hawks a hockey lesson."

The Bruins insist that they should not have lost either of the games in Chicago, which put them in their loss column. The Bruins have been only four times this year, and Montreal Maroons and New York Americans have the only other teams in the league that have won the greatest machine ever assembled.

Chicago has something to fight for these days. Always a great team, Chicago, by winning its second place in the Rangers, will enter the second place battle in the League challenge round play-off, and, if victorious, will have a chance to play two of their three second round play-off games in Chicago.

Chuck Gardiner, whom the Bruins on numerous occasions have found hard to pass for two seasons now, and a goaler rated alongside of Tim Thompson, will be in the Bruins' net, and he will be out in front of him a team of fast, hard-checking, youngsters who have developed quite fast, defensively, and have proved to be able scorers.

The Bruins have been in Boston since Feb. 23 and the team is well rested and ready to go at top speed.

Robins Will Win Pennant, Says Wright

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 10 (AP)—Glenn Wright, shortstop and captain, and coach Otto Miller have proved that the Brooklyn Robins will win the National League pennant this year. Wright, commenting on the team's chances, declared the Robins' fielding and hitting would be as good if not better than any team in the league. His only doubts concerned the pitchers, whereupon Miller, the pitching expert, immediately spoke up and said the Robins' hurlers would be even stronger than usual and that prediction, if realized, means quite some pitching.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 10 (AP)—The most improved rookie in the New York Yankees' training camp seems to be Ben Chapman, third baseman from the St. Paul club of the American Association.

Chapman, who Manager Bob Shawkey hopes will fill the hole at third base this season, has shown vast improvement in his fielding the past week and his throwing arm is much better than it was. Chapman used a side-arm throw at St. Paul, but Shawkey said his coaches have been teaching the youngster to throw overhead.

Giants Begin to Show More Hitting Power
NEW YORK, N.Y., March 10 (AP)—John McGraw has had little to cheer about in the New York Giants' first two exhibition games with the Chicago White Sox.

Babe Ruth

Col. Jacob Ruppert

The contract controversy between Babe Ruth and Col. Jacob Ruppert of the Yankees was settled when the home run king agreed to accept a two-year contract calling for $80,000 per year. These new figures give Ruth $10,000 more than he received last year. Pictured above are the Babe and Ruppert after the much-discussed controversy had been settled.

GOLD STAR ONE OF FIVE INHER SERVICE FLAG

Mothers were the "crowned law of defense" in the World War, as to all wars. Now the Government is asking in aid of France that they may cure the last remaining of their hero sons, the Gold Star mothers of America. These mothers have served with the supreme sacrifice. Today the Boston Evening American presents the 15th in a series of biographical sketches of heroes who served their country in the war—sketches made by the Gold Star mothers or widows themselves.

Mrs. Ellen Whelan of Natick, like all war mothers, displayed a service flag. This one had five stars, one of them in gold.

This little Irish mother of 11 boys holds a record probably surpassed in the state, or even a larger territory.

At the time of the declaration of war, Mrs. Whelan had seven boys. Two were beyond the age limit. Of the remaining five, every one served up.

The Whelan roll of honor reads: Regt. Thomas Leo Whelan, 24 killed in action with Co. C, 29th Infantry of the Fourth Division.

William Raymond Whelan, in 20th Ammunition Train of 12th Division in France. (Thought all through war, but didn't see Tom in France).

Andrew J. Whelan, served in navy conveying troops to France.

Dr. Edmund V. Whelan, of Springfield, Mass., was medical examiner at Portsmouth Navy Yard.

Dennis A. Whelan, enlisted when 20, in Aviation Unit, 1st and 2nd Lieutenants' commission.

Sergeant William Whelan had a good record. His company commander wrote his mother:

"In three days more your son was to have left for an officer's training school."

Tom was killed during an enemy raid, late at night, when a huge bomb wiped out the regiment of 46 others. All were buried in 46 graves, a bunch of which was marked by a cross.

In a more recent identified group of graves, the cross was marked by a cross.

COURT ORDERS SANITY TEST FOR SUSPECT IN INCENDIARY CASE

SALESMAN COMMITTED TO HOSPITAL

Peter F. Hughes, Seized as a Result of Fires, Is to Be Put Under Observation

Peter F. Hughes, 28-year-old West Roxbury salesman, charged with setting fires to buildings and automobiles, was ordered committed to Psychopathic Hospital for observation, today, in West Roxbury court.

The salesman, whose home is in Alhambra rd., West Roxbury, was arraigned on two charges of setting fires, two charges of maliciously injuring personal property and one charge of breaking and entering and larceny.

Judge Percival accepted a plea of not guilty on the breaking and entering charge, but refused to accept pleas on the others. In ordering Hughes' commitment to observation, the court said it was continuing the case to March 24.

Hughes was arrested after being observed watching several fires that kept firemen on the jump for hours.

He stated, according to police, that he had been at a party recently in the evening.

The salesman was questioned relative to two other fires of suspicious origin in Roxbury. He denied setting them, however, and Police Capt. James P. Smith of West Roxbury station declared that Hughes could not possibly have started them.

When Pain Comes

Two hours after eating

What many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been overstimulated, and food sour. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medicine is Philip's Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crutches when you once learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Philip's Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acid and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

FISH FLEET IN WITH BIG HAUL

For the second Monday in succession, receipts at the Fish Pier reached the 250000-pound mark today, with haddock again forming the bulk.

More than 150000 of the days' catches were haddock, brought in the holds of 11 steam trawlers and 30 schooners and druggers.

In spite of the heavy receipts, the market remained strong, with haddock quoted at 8 1/2 to 9 cents per pound.

Good weather during the past week at Georges, South Channel, Browns Bank and other offshore fishing grounds, together with the huge demand for the lenten season, accounted for the receipts today.

No especially big stocks were reported by individual vessels, but all shared in the good catches and prices.

Last Monday the haddock catch set up a record at nearly 200000 pounds.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed for Mrs. Margaret Manning Russell, Foster, widow of Governor William B. Russell and mother of Mayor Richard M. Russell of Cambridge, who died at San Remo, Italy, at the age of 68.

After the death of Governor Russell, she married Dr. Michael G. Foster, noted English surgeon, in May, 1907.

Mrs. Foster was born in Roxbury, Mass., the daughter of the late Rev. Joshua Swan, who made his home for many years on Stratton st. She married the late Governor William B. Russell when he was mayor of this city, a position his father had held before him, and which his son now holds.

Mrs. Foster, when First Lady of the Commonwealth, was universally known and highly regarded throughout Massachusetts.

Dr. Foster is the son of Sir Michael Foster, professor at the University of Cambridge, England, whose fame was world wide at one time.

He and Mrs. Foster made their home variously in London and in Italy and other countries.

She had waited her children here last fall, at the time when her son, Richard, succeeded to the Cambridge mayoralty, as his father's grandfather before him had.

San Remo, where Mrs. Foster lived away, is a famous European watering place, and it was there that they first met.

Mrs. Foster is survived by Mayor Russell, by another son, Eustis, by a daughter, Margaret, and by several grandchildren. Dr. Foster, previous to a widower, was the father of four children.

Stockholders Are Trying to Unload the System on Town, She Declares

Charges that citizen stockholders of the Auburn Water Co. are attempting to unload the system "in the town of Auburn were made today at a hearing before the legislative committee on municipal finance by Harriet Fors of the Elm Hill section of that town.

The speaker declared the asking price for the company is $18,000 and it would cost $20,000 more to extend the system to her district. She said the water supply is inadequate and the pipes would not last the pressure required for the extension. She favored supplying the district from Worcester at a cost of about $27,000.

The speaker also charged many who voted for the purchase of town meeting were not "registered" voters.

Selectman Frank Allen said the voting population of the town is 2,200, but only 224 voted on the proposition to purchase the water system. He said between 70 and 80 stockholders are residents of the town.

The principal address was delivered by Rev. Samuel Rensdell, director of the Bureau of Jewish Education of New York City. Another guest speaker was Rabbi Eugene Kohon of New York City, who led a round-table discussion on "The Teaching of Biblical History."

Among the other topics discussed were "Methods of Teaching Hebrew," "Club Work for Boys and Girls," "Children's Services in Junior Congregations," and "Cooperation Between the Synagogue and the Y. M. H. A."

LOCATE REAL LAUNDER GIVES HOME; ELOPE AWAY A TIME

Having found their ideal apartment, David Dalketh Peene, a young Brooklyn architect, and Miss Mary Louise Crosby, secretary to a prominent automobile dealer, sloped to New York city after they had signed a lease.

For months the couple had been discussing marriage and their future home and had agreed on the kind of an apartment they wanted. One trip through a suite on Chauncy st., Cambridge, was sufficient to convince them that they had found their ideal home.

After a brief conference the young couple informed the renting agent the apartment was theirs and then the question of getting married was discussed.

They were impatient for the ceremony and decided on New York. Plans were made to go to New York by airplane, but the weather made it necessary to use an automobile.

They obtained their license and were married in the municipal chapel in New York City Hall. After a few days in New York they took possession of the ideal little apartment awaiting them in Cambridge.

Peene, who is 27, has been living on Beacon st., Brookline, and is the son of W. F. Peene, an architect of Hamilton, Ont. He was graduated from M. T. last year.

Mrs. Peene, who has made her home with her sister, Mrs. John J. Magie of Woburn, is 25 and a graduate of Mt. St. Joseph's Academy in Brighton.

Again?

The unenlightened woman who still suffers every month, receives little sympathy when she could so easily and cheaply get rid of it. This is the case with the use of the periodical press peculiar to feminine nature. It does banish the pain—in five to seven minutes. Because it acts directly on organs affected. If taken ahead of time, you may avoid a single uncomfortable moment. Try to realize what a truly wonderful discovery this is—it has made at least a million women free from the form of suffering quite needless. When every drugstore has these harmless tablets (it's fool to be a martyr) it costs fifty cents in metal case.

Mild's comfort is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves at any time of life. It eases the most intense cases of nervous headache, backache, cramps, hot flashes and all other premenstrual symptoms.

An investigation of his clubbing by Patrolman Horace Hill, a new policeman, has been ordered by Chief James M. Broad and Mayor Manning.

Dr. Manning was on the way home Sunday night when Hill and Patrolman William Gillespie, both members of the latter's family, and both in plain clothes, accosted him and inquired if he knew where they could buy a pint.

The victim took the policemen to the home of Paul Perrele in Richardson st. There he was given a marked bill, went inside and returned in a few minutes, it is said, with a bottle.

He then held him while Gillespie held the house and placed Perrele under arrest for keeping and exposing and sale.

OFFICE VAULT THIEVES KNEW COMBINATIONS

Police to Quiz Persons Familiar With Building's Loot

Valued at $5000 The theft of bonds and jewelry to the value of $5000 from two corner vaults in the office building at 100 State st., is believed by the police to have been committed by someone familiar with the premises and habits of depositors.

Police plan to question all persons who might have knowledge of the vault combinations. They are assigned to occupants of the building.

Special Officer J. Marshall of the Milk st. station, investigating the case, found that the combinations of the vaults had been thrown open in an effort to have been made from them.

The bonds were the property of the P. W. Brooks Co. In this vault there was also $20 in cash. The depositors were discovered by Charles H. Marsters, manager of the Brooks Co.

The jewelry, consisting of a diamond ring, a watch, and a woman's gold watch, all valued at $750, are the property of Miss Mary E. Murray of 3 Lorraine ter., Brighton. Miss Murray is employed in an office on the third floor.

The police believe that the thief watched the occupants of the office from some point where he could see them without being seen. He left the building and he could work without interruption.

Police have notified all bond holders to go to the bank for persons who might present the bonds.

AMOS AND ANDY FULL OF TRICKS AS MIMICS

A CURRENT radio magazine chuckles editorially over its supposed discovery of the means by which Amos 'n' Andy produce varieties of voice in their nightly sketches. Amos, the magazine states, doubles as Kingfish by the simple expedient of talking closer to the microphone in a slightly lowered tone of voice. To revert to his role of Amos, he steps back a few feet and resumes his natural voice.

tain effect, but these effects give the impression of distance rather than intimacy. The distance is not, incidentally, while the pair were appearing; Boston, Godden showed me exactly how he voices the words "Kiddie" and "accident" in the scene by means of a sudden deepening of his own voice. In normal conversation, Godden has a nimble manner, a quick wit, and a ready wit, but not somber. His customary interpretation of Amos is with a high-pitched voice, which is not at all like his high-pitched voice in the scene. It is possible for him to alter the pitch, tone and quality of his words so that the person listening, not only not catching the lip-speech, but was easily convinced that two persons were in conversation.

There was no microphone on hand, and the whole affair was spontaneous and entirely effortless.

THERE WAS plenty of Bostonian interest in last night's Atwater Kent hour. The featured artist, Mme. Martha Atwood, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera house, was a Massachusetts native, born on Cape Cod, who for a number of years pursued her musical career in Europe. Her first public appearance here was in the role of Mimi in Puccini's "La Bohème" at the Boston Opera House during the season of 1912-13. It is probable that the singer should delve into her operatic repertoire for at least one number, and in admirably displayed the vocal skill which has won her a place in the foremost opera house of America. But it was in simple refrains from melodies of Stephen Foster, sung with the orchestra, where all the sweetness and pathos of her lovely voice came forth at their best.
